Thought on marriage: The uniqueness of woman

Men, especially the married, must learn to minister to the woman's unique nature. They can do this easily if they recognise their own unique male nature. Nature is therefore nurtured. Often men do not even understand themselves. To misunderstand women is to misjudge, and thus mistreat them. God created woman to be --joint heir with man. A woman's uniqueness is her greatest appeal to man, ...and his greatest challenge.

Parish News letter– 26th Sunday in Ordinary time 30th Sept to 7th Oct 2018

I SAW A MOTHER DOING THIS IN CHURCH HOW MANY CAN FOLLOW HER EXAMPLE?

Last week I mentioned in this column that parents should teach their children good manners in Church. I understood later that some took me for someone who does not value the presence of children in church. What I know is that there are many things we can do to help the children to know what it means to go to Sunday Mass. Start with yourself as a parent or a guardian: leave home with time to arrive at church before Mass begins, preferably about 10 minutes. Doing so allows everyone to have a few moments for prayer and to be ready to participate in the Mass. It teaches children the importance of timekeeping not only for school but for the Church. Circumstances arise which will delay a family; such a situation is different from the perpetually late parishioners. When someone invites you to a function and you report late, it lowers his opinion about you. What can we say about perpetual late comers at Jesus' weekly banquet?

Before coming into church compound, discard any gum in a proper container. There must be a special place in purgatory for those who stick gum underneath the pews! Those who smoke in the church grounds or leave their cigarette butts everywhere show disrespect to Jesus present in the Tabernacle nearby. It is all about self-respect.

As your priest, I like standing at the back of the church to welcome you for Sunday Mass. One of the things I observe is to see how many of you on entering the church, make the sign of the cross with the holy water. It is just few individuals; but this gesture reminds us of our baptism and does dispel evil.

Before entering the pew, genuflect. It is an important act of reverence to the presence of Jesus in the Tabernacle. If you believe that He is present in the Sacrament particularly in the Eucharist, genuflection must be reverent. Thanks to those who mind to switch off their mobile phones as they enter the Church. Phones that go off during Mass speak volumes about you. Switch them off upon entry.

Participate in the songs and prayers, follow the readings and listen attentively to the homily. I am sometimes surprised by those "pillars of salt" who never open their mouths to sing or to pray. Those who do so are telling others that they are not touched by the Holy Spirit.

During the homily, it is not the time to read the newsletter. Listen to the Word of God being explained. Sunday School is good but the best way to teach your children the faith is by parents sitting with them in church and guide them. Last Sunday, I saw a mother following the readings with her finger so that her two young children could more easily and attentively follow them. How I wish all parents would do this!

Anecdote: Special Prayer

Once there was a merchant not well educated but much devoted to his regular prayers. Once on his journey he stopped at the time of prayer and spread his prayer mat bowed down and went through his bag to get his prayer book. To his surprise he had misplaced it and without it he could not say his prayers. So looked to heaven and said, God, you are the author of all and I know I cannot pray today because I have forgotten my prayer book. Look, I will do something now. I will slowly recite the alphabet three times. You know everything and you join them together into word and make them my prayer for you this evening. Then he recited the alphabet with his eyes closed. The God in heaven listened to his prayers and said, today this is the best prayer I heard.

Matters of Importance

Month of October is dedicated to our Lady of Rosary. Praying Rosary either individually or as a family is an age old tradition in the Catholic Church. Through the recitation of the Rosary directed to Mary the Mother of God we ultimately praise God the Father. I invite you to cultivate this habit of praying the Rosary in your families. The family that prays together stays together. Let us make our families a welcome place for God to dwell in.
