FROM FATHER MICHAEL

One of the traditional disciplines of Lent is giving money to charity, to support the poor and to promote justice and peace. Lent would also be a good time to review your regular financial contribution to the Church. Many of you are in the planned giving scheme, many of you are in the Gift Aid scheme and many of you make generous contributions through Sunday collections. I am grateful to you all.

An article of this kind always has a sting in the tail. And here it is. Our regular giving is no longer sufficient to pay our regular expenses. We have no paid housekeeper, no paid cleaners or gardeners or parish secretaries but still we cannot pay our way. This is not a healthy situation to be in. I would welcome your thoughts.
